

As part of the Florida Philanthropic Network family, you will connect with fellow philanthropists and funders and enjoy access to a robust suite of programs and services as you advance your work and achieve your mission. Our members vary widely in size, type, years of existence and program interests, but they all share a commitment to building philanthropy to build a better Florida.

FPN is the only funders network exclusively serving Florida grantmakers. We strive to address philanthropic opportunities that make a positive social, economic and environmental impact. FPN can help you explore issues important to your foundation, improve practices and address policy issues. We invite you to add your voice to ours as we work together to grow the impact of Florida philanthropy.

Stacy Carlson, Ph.D.
President & CEO, Florida Philanthropic Network

WHAT WE DO

Florida Philanthropic Network connects Florida grantmakers to one another through educational programs, networking, regional convenings, online opportunities and much more.

We provide news, information and resources to the philanthropic community in Florida, advocate on behalf of philanthropy locally and nationally, and commission objective research on the nonprofit and philanthropic sectors.

FPN conducts regular research on Florida philanthropy and grantmaking, as well as periodic research on the state's nonprofit sector, to help inform the work of people working in the field or with the field.

WHY WE DO IT

Complex problems demand dynamic solutions. Florida Philanthropic Network believes that systemic change will occur through collaboration, cooperation, education, research and sound public policy. If we combine forces, we will build a unified voice for the nonprofit sector in Florida that will advance this theory of change to improve the quality of life for all Floridians.

OUR VISION

Florida will be successful in modeling and facilitating cooperation and collaboration among all sectors — business, government and nonprofit, to promote the best interest of all Floridians.

OUR MISSION

- Foster cooperation and collaboration among business, government and nonprofit organizations
- Advance sound public policy that includes nonprofit sector perspectives
- Promote and develop philanthropy in Florida

MEMBERSHIP CRITERIA

To qualify for FPN membership, an organization's principal function must be the making of grants for charitable, religious, educational or scientific purposes, and its annual grant distributions must be made to multiple organizations that are not subsidiaries of or related to the grantmaker, rather than to one institution.

In addition, a grantmaking public charity must operate a competitive grantmaking program and commit more than 50% of its annual expenditures to such a program.

MEMBERSHIP TERMS

Dues are applied to FPN membership from January 1 — December 31 of each calendar year, with membership renewed at the start of each calendar year. For new members, membership dues are prorated for the first year based on the month joined.

For example, an organization joining in March would pay 9/12 of its full membership dues for the first year.

NON-SOLICITATION POLICY

Since a vital role of Florida Philanthropic Network is to provide an opportunity for grantmakers to meet in a collegial and respectful atmosphere, all FPN members understand that it is not appropriate to solicit donations at FPN programs, events and other functions. Collaborative grantmaking, however, is to be encouraged.

Organizations that have a dual grantmaking and grantseeking role agree that their development staff will not utilize FPN activities or resources for fundraising/development purposes.
